Notes:

1. The schedule is subject to change during the course of the year.
2. The Graduate School of Bio-Applications and Systems Engineering (excluding the Cooperative Major in Advanced Health Science) employs a quarterly system. However, it will follow the academic calendar used for graduate schools and undergraduate departments unless otherwise noted.
3. The Department of Industrial Technology and Innovation in the Graduate School of Engineering generally follows the graduate school and undergraduate department academic calendar, but there may be slight changes that take classes held at night or on Saturdays into consideration.
4. The Cooperative Department of Veterinary Medicine generally follows the graduate school and undergraduate department academic calendar, but there may be slight changes that take the need to hold classes with Iwate University into consideration.
